

"Day Star Archway" : Bill Fitzgibbons

Visible as one drives into the San Antonio International Airport along Airport Boulevard toward the parking garage ticket booths and the terminals, Bill Fitzgibbons' "Daystar Archway" stands out in front of the southwest facade of the new long-term garage completed in July 2008. Made from the crossed wings of a BACH-11 airplane, the archway was relocated due to construction and in the process was retrofitted with special LED lighting.
